Art Unit: 3738

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 29-61 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claims contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventors, at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The original disclosure (particularly in reference to the elected embodiment) neither describes nor fairly suggests to one of ordinary skill the newly added language pertaining to the leading end of the implant being "seated on the peripheral rim of the densely compacted bone along the anatomical curvature of the adjacent vertebral bodies" (e.g., claim 29, lines 10-14 and 20-25). Because of the procedure for interpreting such claims as set forth in MPEP § 2163.06, prior art may be applicable to any subsequently amended claims.

The Applicant's remarks have been considered but are deemed moot in view of the new grounds of rejection presented above.
